Excellent game, love it... And The community is great as well... Highly recommend it... This is an old-school hidden object game that requires you to repeat a fixed number of screens multiple times but with different lists of objects to find. As the number of objects you need to find increases per level, you need to vaguely remember the layout of screens in order to keep up. If you are a fan of similar classics, then I recommend this game to you. If you want a hidden object adventure, I recommend trying a different title.

There is a theme (a detective solving "cases"), but no real story. Personally, I prefer the older hidden object games that didn't need to be held together with a thin (and often ludicrous) story line. Find a rubber duck, a crown, and 5 dinner forks makes a wee bit of sense as a object-finding sleuth, but it makes no sense as a hero trying to defeat a pirate ghost or stop a mad scientist. Let's just admit what we are doing doesn't make any narrative sense and move on.. This is based off the first story of Mono - I Want To Get Out, as the other two aren't released yet as of this review.

There really isn't much to say about this first story of Mono - it was a ton of fun, very creepy, loved the "glitchy" aspect of it, and it absolutely left me wanting more. If I had to say anything bad about it - the graphics aren't that great (even though they suit the game fine) and the puzzles are relatively basic. Both are very minor issues in an otherwise great title that's worth the $4.

I definitely look forward to the next two installments and see how everything comes together.

Per usual, I did a playthrough of it if anyone wants to see it in action: https://youtu.be/V17p2_KtVBI4. The wire is pretty enjoyable game i reckon. Challenging with simple play rules.

. Disclosure: Received review copy

A Wii game that hits late the PC scene and one that tries to sell itself as a Starfox, Space Harrier type of flying game. Wii roots can be seen right away on the loading screen where the player is recommended to keep the wrist strap on at all time. Now just how many play this with a remote like on the Wii?

So is it any good? Well yes with some caveats:

Pro's:

+ Pricing

+ Simple gameplay - Pick it up and off you go. There is even an autofire so you dont need to mash fire button.

+ Challenge. Simple to learn but achievement stats speak for themselves: Those gold medals are tough.

+ Content and variation. Yes it's listed below as a Con too but considering the base idea this game tries to get everything out of the formula with excellent variation and details. Sometimes you fly in space shooting things, sometimes you either fly in space or in a tunnel and try to avoid hitting things. And lets not forget the Boss fights.

Con's:

- Limited content in the end no matter what. This is one of those small games you pick and play and then put away. Forget about tens of hours of gameplay.

- Truly casual gamers with no will or skill to advance further will hit a wall relatively quick. Difficulty ramps up quite fast.

. This game is broken as hell can not pick up plane part without having to run to one side to the other to get next mission objective Broken as hell and die way to fast fix your game and I will change the review!!. Beautiful Game. Well worth the price.. I've never seen an animation of a dog exploding so many times over and over again.

Turns out I am not a good dog.. BANANA IS FRUIT♥♥♥♥♥10 such a copy cat

Got a free copy of the game from orlygift.com. It's very hard. A fish anime!!!. This game seems great at first and then you get to a place around difficulty 3 or 4 that you can not progress unless you managed your money in a certain way.

Basically you will have to start over,. It's one of those games that are fun to play for a while, but after that it becomes kind of boring. It's not a bad game and the idea is good, but it wasn't entertaining enough after a while (maybe some parts where the game feels unfair, is one of the reasons for that). The price is decent and it had quite easy to get achievements.. I have used this for a while now and really impressed how good this little app is! It recognizes voice properly even my spelling is not so good. I use this app with games and regular using in windows. It makes daily use much easier when you can just say e.g. "open facebook" and it opens it automatically, or in game you just say "nightvision" and boom you have nightvision... There is so much possibilities with this app! Thanks for the developing this!
